DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in response to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1, claim(s) 1-6 and 13, drawn to a gene and oligonucleotide.

Group 2, claim(s) 7-8, drawn to an expression product.

Group 3, claim(s) 9, drawn to an antibody.

Group 4, claim(s) 10, drawn to an expression product having a physiological activity.

Group 5, claim(s) 11-12, drawn to a therapeutic and prophylactic composition.

Group 6, claim(s) 14 and 19, drawn to a gene therapy composition and a method of use.

Group 7, claim(s) 15, drawn to a gene-specific probe.

Group 8, claim(s) 16, drawn to a method of screening for candidate compounds.

Group 9, claim(s) 17-18, drawn to a method for therapy involving administration of the protein.

The inventions listed as Groups 1-13 do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Claim 1 is directed to a gene coding a protein having an amino acid sequence derived from amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO:1 by deletion, substitution or addition of one or plurality of amino acids and having a physiological activity of neuronal-supporting activity, such as NGF, for example; therefore, the gene fails to define over prior art and cannot serve as a unifying special technical feature. The “special technical features” means those technical features that define a contribution over the prior art. (See M.P.E.P. 1850.) Thus, the apparent “special technical feature” of these claims cannot form the basis of unity of invention and the main invention, which forms a single inventive concept, is Group 1, claims 1-6 and 13, drawn to a gene and oligonucleotide.

Art Unit: 1646

Groups 2-9, which are directed to either compounds or to additional methods, do not possess special technical features as set forth above. Note that PCT Rule 13 does not provide for multiple products or methods within a single application. Therefore, unity of invention is lacking and restriction is proper.

2. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Different physiological activities of a protein (claims 1,10), or different pathological conditions (claims 12, 18).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: 1, 10, 11,17.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the physiological activities and pathological conditions/diseases are different.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
